SACRAMENTO TRIP TOMORROW!

WHITE PRESENTS SUNDAY VESPER CONCERTS IN S.F.; SERIES BEGINS ON NOV. 7

Music Fed. Combines With Church Committee

Mr. Raymond L. White, assistant professor of music at State College, is presenting a series of four vesper concerts beginning this Sunday, November 7, at the Congregational Methodist Temple at Post and Mason streets, where Dr. Knuth is Minister of Music.

These concerts are presented by the Music Department and the Music Federation of San Francisco State in cooperation with the Music Committee of the Temple. This Sunday, at four o'clock in the afternoon, the A Capella Choir under the direction of Mr. Roy Freeburg, is performing on the program with Mr. White. They will offer four numbers, two by Tchaikowsky, one by Palestrina, and another by Christainsin. Mr. White's offerings on the organ will include a trio from the sonata of Bach and a composition of Cesar Franck.

On the following Sunday, November 14, the A Capella Choir of San Francisco Junior College, directed by Flossita Badger, will appear on the program with Mr. White. On the twenty-first of November, the State College Symphony Orchestra, under Dr. Knuth, will be featured, and on the twenty-eighth the State College Chamber Music Ensembles, directed by Mr. William Zech of State's music department will appear.

This series of four vesper concerts are given preceding the annual Christmas Oratorio of the Congregational Methodist Temple. On the evening of Sunday, December 5, San Francisco State College Oratorio Chorus and Symphony Orchestra will present "Christmas Eve."

Everyone is welcome to attend these vesper concerts, and invitations are given at the Music Department Office for the asking.

Debate Team Is Defeated by U.S.F.

The State team was represented by the two Senk sisters, Shirley and Muriel. The team from U.S.F. was composed of two veteran men debaters from that institution.

Another debate scheduled for Tuesday with the S. F. Jaysee team on the question, "Resolved, that the C.I.O. is better than the A. F. of L." was postponed and will be held next Tuesday in the Galileo High School auditorium at 3:30 p. m. State will endeavor in this debate to keep a perfect record against the Jaysee team, having defeated them in the other three debates between the colleges.

To make the day a day of triple-headers, the debaters are scheduled to meet the team from the University of California in two debates on that date, one to be held here, and the other to be held on the Berkeley campus.

State debaters suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the University of San Francisco squad.

The local team was defending the affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That President Roosevelt's declaration of International Policy as found in his speech of October 5, 1937, should be approved."

State's Band Gives High School Program

State's Band has been asked to repeat a program similar to that given before the Mission High School student body last Friday, October 29. The request came from Girls High School. The program included several novelty instrumental and vocal numbers by the members of the band, including Pete Rugilo's swing band, Paul De Poister's dummy dance, Milt Bronstein's sweet potatoe and others.

Senior Deadline Nov. 6 For Pictures

November 6 is the absolute deadline for Senior pictures, and to insure inclusion in the 1938 Franciscan, all pictures must be taken before that time. The proofs of photos taken up to now must be returned to the studios within two weeks, and any retouching, or questions concerning them will be taken care of by competent studio authorities.

Group pictures for the year book are being scheduled now by Louise Vallarino, associate editor of the book, in charge of the photography. Any organizations who have not contacted Miss Vallarino should do so as soon as possible.

Group pictures are being taken by Harold Martin, publicity director of the college, and in the event contact cannot be made with Louise Vallarino, arrangements can be made with Martin's office for the pictures. There is a charge of five cents per person in the picture payable at the time the picture is taken.

P. E. Club Meeting

P. E. Club will hold their regular meeting tonight from 7 to 9 in the Women's Gym. President Bobbie Sandeen urges all girls to attend the meeting as recreations will be offered following the business meeting.

Students Plan Campaign For New Buildings

Student Prexy Smith Appoints Decker, Smith, Zeck Assistants

San Francisco State's Student Strategy Committee is formulating plans to continue last semester's campaign for the College's current building project, under leadership of Student Body President William J. J. Smith, assisted by Bud Decker, Ed Smith, and Norman Zech.

"We are awaiting definite word from Governor Merriam in order that the campaign may go forward," reports Smith.

The Strategy Committee, which met last Friday to organize a method of procedure, will follow several lines in its work and will contact State Assemblymen and Congressmen. Through Harold Martin, the College Publicity Director, numerous city newspapers will be contacted.

Last semester a similar committee organized a student campaign to bring before the State Ways and Means Committee in the State Capitol in Sacramento, San Francisco State's need for new buildings on the local campus.

The specific building requests are a new Administration Building, gymnasium, and library. Plans for an entire new campus set-up are being contemplated. The proposed plan calls for an administration building on Laguna Street, with the auditorium running back toward the present Annex B. This would allow for a gymnasium to be built where the present Administration Building is. However, no definite steps will be taken until word has been received from Governor Merriam.

TALENT PARADE AND EXCURSION RALLY IN GYM TODAY

Program Arranged For Sacramento Trip Pep Rally

Today at 11:30 in the Gymnasium, the second of the present series of Rally Talent Parades will be presented in the form of an Excursion Rally. All participants in the Sacramento Excursion Trip are urged to attend this rally because final instructions for the Friday event will be given.

A varied program has been arranged for the Rally Talent Parade and Hal Delma, general chairman of the weekly affairs, expresses much enthusiasm in regard to the entertainment. He will introduce a tap dancer from a leading downtown theater who will present a specialty number. An accordionist will also present several selections.

Students who will perform in this week's Rally Parade are Tom Thorpe, vocal and piano selection; Harold Jacobs, imitation of March of Time; Lucille Goldsmith, impersonations; and Bud Chandler, "the singing half back" of the rambling Gaters, will present several songs. Milt Bronstein will render some instrumental selections.

Two winners will be selected from this group and will qualify for the Gala Talent Parade which will terminate the series of rallies. As in the previous rally series, a silver cup trophy will be awarded to each of the three winning contestants of the finale. The awards will be donated through the courtesy of Jenkel Jewelers of 150 Post Street.

Dance, Dinner, Rally Feature Trip's Program

By FRANK SCHWASS

Sacramento aborigines will be startled out of their heat-induced lethargy Friday night at approximately 7:00 o'clock, when several hundred San Francisco State football fans swarm into the Capitol city for the Sacramento Junior College game. Approximately three hundred tickets for the Eastern hegira have been sold and it is expected that this group will be augmented by a large group coming by auto. The San Francisco exodus will start from the campus at four o'clock and be transported to the Ferry Building on Mr. Billesby's trams numbered 1, 5, 9, and 13. Survivors of the ferry trip will board a special train with two stripped cars attached for dancing, etc. The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the Junior College, led by John Gowan, Jaysee prexy, will meet the rooters and escort them to Hart's Cafe. Gastronomically satiated, the students will be transported to the scene of the football game in busses.

After the game, local fans will be invited to attend a dance in honor of the crowning of some queen or other, which promises to be good entertainment. At 12:30 a. m. harassed excursion leaders will round up their charges and bundle them onto the 1:30 train which, incidentally, will stop at Oakland and Richmond to disgorge inmates of those municipalities.

The Sacramento Junior College Senators have two impressive victories to their credit. The Red and Gold defeated the Santa Clara Frosh 6-0 and the S. F. J. C. Rams 24-6. Statistically speaking, the victory over the local Jaysee affords the only means of contrasting the relative strength of both teams. In as much as the Rams defeated the Gaters 12-7 it appears that the local

EDITORIALS

Editorials and features written in the Golden Gater reflect only the writer's opinion. They should not be taken to represent student or administration opinion, all unsigned editorials are by the Editor.

Enjoy Yourself In Sacramento

Tomorrow San Francisco State says goodbye to the college and the city, to go to Sacramento for a football game. Regardless of many rumors to the contrary, the purpose of the excursion is to get a rooting section up to Sacramento to witness the State-Loyola game.

Within each participant in this rooting group should arise a certain inner pride and feeling of responsibility to the team and the college itself. That pride should manifest itself in exuberance and spirit. Not compressed by dignity to a difficulty possible for three hundred college men and women to cause a rare fine time, sing their heads off, yell to the skies for their team, live the life with their spirit, and still cause a good healthy voice in the mornings of the next afternoon.

To have a rip where the students sit silently in seats at the start, because yelling is unnecessary, get in places, climb into busses without a murmur, watch a football game with no enthusiasm, and then come home relentlessly would be the height of folly.

Nor one wants that.

But we can have a rip where students dance, sing, and yell their way to Sacramento, march cheering down the main street, let the waiters in the restaurant know we're here, [illegible] State, have a few cheers in the stands, fill the stadium with support for the team, and come home tired and happy, having [illegible] memories with the impression that we're a peppy college that knows how.

In other words, have the best time you can, but remember that Sacramento is thinking about making a big impression for S. F. State.

Muldoon Plan Hits Snag

It is with deep regret that student leaders contemplate the decision of the interdepartmental faculty committee report on the Muldoon Plan to schedule midterms like finals.

The report turned in to the executive board indicated that the committee did not view the plan in a very favorable light because of certain flaws in the plan.

These objections included the fact that some professors do not give midterms, and therefore the plan would fail to accomplish its purpose. Also that some professors give several minor examinations rather than regular midterms, also defeating the plan.

President Will Smith referred the whole matter to an executive board committee, hoping that this committee might be able to smooth out the flaws, and re-create a plan which will be acceptable to all concerned.

Regardless of any and all objections, one fact still stands clear. Students ought not have more than two examinations on any one day, and something, which Frank Muldoon tried to accomplish, should be done.

A Warning To Thieves

Petty thievery on the campus will not continue if the executive board has its way about the matter. At their last meeting, this body decided that if anyone is caught in an act which is definitely proven to be larceny, the offender will be brought before the Student Board of Control, and recommendation will be made to have him removed from college.

This is serious. And a serious warning is hereby given to the effect that the present situation of wholesale theft is no longer to be tolerated.

Pep Rally in Gym Today

Today from 11:30 to 1:00, "Monk" Delma, yell leader, will conduct a pep rally in the gym to get spirit ready for the excursion. Go on over and see how good a job he does.

These rally talent parades which he has originated and directed have certainly added much to the color of rallies, and it is the Gater's every hope that they may continue in success.

Today's rally will be the longest we've had for quite some time, but the array of stunts and talent "Monk" has lined up will make the time pass quickly. Be sure to show up at 11:30.

PERSONALITY

A while back we looked at one of the yell queens of State, the blonde one, so now let's take a squint at the dark haired one. Fran Twohig. Her picture is not only decorating the front page of the Golden Gater frequently, but also city papers more than occasionally. She dances professionally at several downtown hotels, and is always on the go, trying to keep up with all of her dates. Frances has that indefinable thing called charm which will, if we aren't mistaken, put her across the finish line ahead of the rest of us. These are the things that those who don't know her can see. But what of the opinions of her friends? Well, she is real and unaffected. It is her self assurance that keeps her from being inflated by her success—she doesn't have to pretend or put up a front. She is sincere, has a good sense of humor, and deserves her place as "Queen of the Student Body" which she won at a contest last semester.

FASHIONS

We have always had a yen for tunics and they are in style, too. We can get them in any size, style, or color. Swing skirts, plain or pleated skirts. High waistlines, belted, or fitted with straight lines at the waist. We can get them in wool, silk crepe, or velvet. And being this changeable makes them versatile in use. In wool with a mannish shirt-waist they are swell for school outfits. In silk with chiffon blouse with immense puffed sleeves they fit in for any informal dinner date or movies. Our favorite is one in black velvet, very fitted, and flare skirt. With it we would wear an egg-shell satin blouse with long sleeves with wide, wide cuffs buttoned with satin covered buttons.

Gaters in Attempt to Score Upset Over Political Charges From Capitol Junior College

aggregation is in for a severe trouncing. Campus bookies are giving eighteen points to anyone betting on the Tide. With Runar Stone, Giles Daniels, and Al Gomez on the sidelines, the Gaters are in perhaps the worst shape they have been in all season. Bill Harkness, Bob Kelnhofer, Charley Iago, Red Thompson, and Dick Osborne will probably carry the brunt of the ball-toting job with Hodgins and Jackson on the wings. "Hook" Hanrahan and Art Jarl will be in at tackles, depending on the way Hal Beseman's knee shapes up. Kauer and Glavich are expected to hold down the guard jobs with Bud Glasgow in the pivot spot.

Bob Wei, snappy Senator signal-caller, will be the thorn in the Gater side. Wei is a triple-threat man with punting his forte. Fred Sartore, Red and Gold fullback, scored three touchdowns against the local Jaysee and will probably attempt to repeat his feat Friday night. Bud Bernardo and Martin Rilles will fill the other backfield spots for the Senators at the kick-off. The danger in the Capitol boys' defensive attack lies in their consistent punting, coupled with the speed of their ends. Offensively, the Jaysee outfit has two ten-second men and several beefy numbers capable of gaining yards through seemingly impregnable lines.

The game, on paper, shapes up as a track meet for the Jaysee. State may truly win a moral victory in this game if they hold the Red and Gold to a two-touchdown win. Gater teams in the past have been known to thumb their noses at paper prophets, but in this case the opposition appears a bit too strong.

Win, lose or draw, the affair promises to be one of the social highlights of the term and a good time is expected to be had by all.

TO THE STUDENT BODY . . .

With hopes of abolishing the "whispering campaign", or at least keeping it down to a loud shout, the State varsity sends this letter to the Student Body . . .

To begin with, we want to thank the members of the Student Body for their splendid support, even on occasions when the outlook wasn't so bright. To Monday-morning quarterbacks we can only suggest that they spend more time and thought for the good of the college, rather than circulating misleading rumors and insidious information.

Right here and now we, the members of the football team, wish to state that we like our coaches and are behind them 100 per cent in any decisions they see fit to make. We KNOW that they are behind us every step of the way. Our coach's job doesn't consist merely of training us five days out of the week 4 to 6:30, three months out of the year. Nobody ever thinks of the week-ends they spend scouting opponents or the midnight oil they burn mapping out new plays and defenses. Unlike most college coaches, they do not have the "cream of the crop" of football material to choose from. There are no hired players at State, we play because we like the game. Many of our men were inexperienced at the beginning of the season, so you can see that whipping a line of rookies into a presentable football team is no easy task.

We realize that we aren't a big time organization, but we believe in the future of S. F. State and consider it a privilege to do our little bit for its advancement. We also realize that only through hard work and cooperation can our college gain its rightful place among the leading colleges of California. We want to do our part so why not cut the gripe and cooperate!

. . . This letter is very straightforward, but nevertheless the question arises: Does this message voice the sentiments of the ENTIRE squad, or is it the workings of a minority group? . . .

TO THE EXCURSIONISTS . . .

As Epictetus once said: "He is a drunkard who takes more than three glasses; and though he be not drunk, he hath exceeded moderation." . . . If any of you imbibers of alcoholic beverages exceed moderation and find yourself immersed in the throes of recklessness, make sure you confine your antics to the "tearin' down" of the goal-posts . . . don't start taking the Capitol Bldg. apart piece by piece. . . . Those high muckymucks up there might remember that we are still asking them for a little "filthy lucre" for new buildings! . . .

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN . . .

Billy Hammond is starting a campaign to build Billy Hammond into an All-American . . . A sponsor is being looked for . . . Huey's was suggested, as was the Redwood Empire Distillery Co. . . . It's about time somebody decided to "build up" Hammond, he could use a few more inches . . .

TO MYSELF . . .

Seems like the Athletic Dept. could use another man . . . How about it, Doc Roberts? . . .

Casabans Take Second Tussle In Navy Game

Having already tasted the elixir of victory, by virtue of a convincing win over the Hayes Valley quintet early this year and a no-contest decision over a Navy five, the varsity basketballers begin official practice under Coach Dan Farmer, November 12, in preparation for the coming season.

THREE MEN GONE

Faced with the loss of Kenny Wilkes, high scoring forward, Cy Atkinson, lanky first string center, and "Notch" DeBischop, speedy forward, Coach Farmer is confronted with the problem of replacing these stellar performers with incoming freshmen. Rumor has it that Joe Sans, who averaged over eighteen points a game in high school competition, will be groomed for the spot left by Wilkes. Another freshman casaban is Bob Wolf, Commerce High School star, who, it is believed, will prove a capable replacement for DeBischop.

At present Farmer's chief worry is the difficulty of replacing Cy Atkinson, who, in his last year of competition led the field in points. Fighting for the vacated center post is "Slip" Madigan and Al Luntz, both of whom understudied Atkinson last season. At the guard positions will be reliable Ken Johnson, now in his third year of varsity competition, Bill Plutte, a returning veteran, and Marty Callum.

BARBANO RETURNS

According to observers, Mr. Madigan and Mr. Lutz will have to show considerable improvement to fill the shoes of Cy. Also showing definite promise is Eddie Barbano, who, at the end of last year's season, showed flashes of form which may earn him a starting berth.

The Jayvees, under the leadership of George Mirande, have among their ranks the following: Ed Smith, "Red" Thompson, Ed Collins, Ronnie English, "Bud" Chandler, Joe Lee, and Bill Rowlands. Newcomers who may join the squad include George Thayer, football center, and Al Cleary, Fremont High School recruit, and many others.

As was announced in a previous issue, the Junior Varsity will number amongst its opponents, city high schools, and a number of outside trips. They will also play preliminaries to varsity affrays.

Demon Discloses Dizzy Data, Dope; Factual Figures Found From Footballers

For the benefit of those statistically minded it is found that the Purple and Gold gridders, thirty-two (32) men to be exact, weigh in the vicinity of five thousand, five hundred and ninety (5,590) pounds all told, or in other words, over two and a half (2½) tons (2,000 lbs. to a ton) of brawn and muscle. The backfield, numbering ten (10) men have an average of one hundred and fifty-eight, point seven (158.7) pounds (16 oz. in a lb.) per man; the linemen, twenty-two (22) in number, tip the scales at one hundred and eighty-one, point two (181.2) per man which is good weight in any country. Tossed into one (1) mess, the average is found to be one hundred and seventy-four point four (174.4) pounds per person.

Taking the long, short, fat, and thin angles of this arithmetical conundrum, Captain Hal Beseman, with his six (6) feet, (12 inches to a foot) three and a half (3½) inches and Harry Holliway, with his two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds of beef are tops among the big boys of the outfit. Little "Scooter" Marder, five (5) feet, three (3) inches and carrying the enormous burden of one hundred and thirty-five (135) pounds of flesh takes first (1st) prize among the mighty mites.

Of the former almamammies of the boys on the squad, Poly and Lowell, arch rivals of San Francisco, are tied for top membership with six (6) men each; Mission trails second with five (5) fellows as its graduates. There are nineteen (19) different high schools represented; twenty-two (22) natives of San Francisco; six (6) residents from the wild and woolly hills of the East Bay and six (6) out-of-towners. . . .

First Boxing Show Nears Completion As Fisticuffers Hold Daily Workouts

As the date for the Boxing Show rapidly draws near, State's newly established boxing team is rounding into great shape.

Manager Carl Yeager announced that plans for the show are almost complete. It will be held Wednesday night, November 17, at 8 o'clock in the Girls' Gym. The price of admission will be 10 cents. Among the galaxy of stars who will participate are Maury Schwarz, John Cronin, who recently entered the Golden Gloves Tournament, Billy Hammond, Bob Kelnhofer, and Bill Harkness.

According to Yeager, there will be several encounters with outside schools. No definite matches have been slated as yet, but the members of the team can be assured of a full program.

The finale of the boxing season will be the Block "S" show, which will be toward the end of the spring semester. Carl Yeager, who will also manage this show, is already making plans for this event.

Block "S" Snags Default Victory; To Meet Rovers

Without having to play, the Block "S" intramural footballers won their second straight contest in their Division I championship race when the Bears, usually an exceptionally strong eleven, defaulted. The game was scheduled for Tuesday noon on the upper field.

WINNERS APPEAR CERTAIN

Although the season does not officially close until November 23, the winners in Divisions II and III appear to be certain already. Farmer's Gnomes lead the Division II standings with two wins and no losses, while the Ramblers are setting the pace in Division III with three straight victories.

The race between the Rover Boys and the Block "S" in Division I should offer an interesting climax to the league play. The two squads met in the first game of the season and fought to a 6-6 tie. If both win the remaining battles on their respective schedules, they will meet in a play-off game, probably on November 14th or 15th.

SPEEDSTERS MEET RAMBLERS

Today's debacle between the Ramblers and the Purple Speedsters will definitely decide the Division I champ. The Speedsters are the only team in that league that has a chance to overtake the flying Ramblers. Tomorrow the Campus Characters and the Bone Crushers meet at noon. These two squads have a habit of failing to show up for their games. If either one fails to appear tomorrow it will be eliminated from competition.

Following is the schedule of games for next week: Monday, Farmer's Gnomes versus Fischer's Men; Tuesday, Block "S" versus Purple Shirts; Friday, The Romans versus Purple Speedsters. There will be no game Thursday, because of the school holiday. Monday's titanic will decide the Division II winner, leaving only Division I undecided by the end of next week.

GOLDEN GLOVES CLAIM BOXER

John Cronin, State freshman, has the distinction of being the only Stater entered in the Golden Gloves Tournament to be held next Monday night at Dreamland Auditorium.

Tipping the beams at 160 pounds, the freshman middleweight will make his debut in the fistic world in the hopes of reaching the finals. Cronin, a Sacred Heart graduate, played guard on the State squad until a severe leg injury forced him out of the line-up. Maury Schwarz and George Paiva, coaches of the State boxing team, are aiding Cronin in his attempt to reach pugilistic fame.

Sponsored by the S. F. Examiner and promoted by Al Sandell, the tournament is an annual event, staged for the purpose of raising money for the Sam Goodhart Xmas Fund for needy children. November 8 to November 12, inclusive, are the dates for this event.

Phi Lambda Chi Dinner Tonight

Rushees of Phi Lambda Chi will be guests at a Rush Dinner tonight at 6 o'clock at their club house, 101 Buena Vista Ave. Marion B. Smith is head of a committee in charge of the dinner and promises an enjoyable evening for all attending. Over twenty-five women will be present, of whom fifteen will be selected as the final pledges for the sorority.

Mary Louise Godfrey, president of Phi Lambda Chi, urges all members that are able to attend this dinner, in order to become better acquainted with the rushees.

Last Tuesday the rushees were guests of the organization at a Rush Tea in the activities room, with more than forty girls present. These two Rush affairs are held in order that these girls wishing to join may be given fair consideration before the final vote is taken.

"We have so many girls wishing to join Phi Lambda Chi that it is impossible for us to take in all of them. So we use this means of eliminating the girls until we have only fifteen left. These fifteen are our final pledges," stated Miss Godfrey.
